How's Business?

Well, some folks say business isn't too good . . . others say it isn' too bad, while some others say it's good.

Blaine "Bud" Hughes, manager of the Duffy-Mott processing plant at Aspers, came forward today with some figures to prove that "business is good."

"I'm tired of hearnig some people say business is bad. It isn't. It's good for those who want to make it good," he said.

Hughes cited his payroll figures to prove that so far as Duffy-Mott is concerned 1958 business is at least $37,608.80 better than business was during the first three months of 1957.

* * *

The Duffy-Mott payroll in January, 1957, was $70,539.45. In January, 1958, it was $69,921. 27.

The payroll in February, 1957, was $53,336.38 while for the same month this year it was $66,085.88.

March bosoted business skyhigh with a 1958 payroll of $74,102.10 against a payroll of $48,624.60 for the same month last year.

The total payroll for the first three months this year, Hughes reported, was $210,109.25 against $172,500.45 for the first three months in 1957.

JEFF SPALDING REALIZES WISH: MEETS 'MAMIE'

The "First Lady" of the land, Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower, visited an old friend and made a new one Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Eisenhower spent approximately an hour Wednesday afternoon at the Warner Hospital where she visited Miss Elizabeth Cox, Carlisle St., a friend whom she had known since World War I days when then Captain and Mrs. Eisenhower resided here while Captain Eisenhower commanded Camp Colt on the Battlefield.

Miss Cox is recuperating from a broken hip suffered in a fall.

Leaving the hospital Mrs. Eisenhower found a young man waiting to see her. She was visibly pleased when he introduced himself and told her that he was five years old and that he had wanted to meet her "all my life."

Was Waiting In Car

The youngster was Jeffrey Linn Spalding, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Spalding, Cashtown. He had been waiting in the family car while his mother and grandmother visited his great - grandfather, Charles Ditzler, Orrtanna, who has been a patient at the hospital for the past four weeks.

Jeffrey saw Mrs. Eisenhower leaving the hospital and presented himself for an introduction.

When Mrs. Eisenhower asked the youngster what he was going to get for Easter he replied: "Easter eggs."

His mother said later that Jeffrey had often asked his parents, when he saw President and Mrs. Eisenhower coming from church services, to introduce him to Mrs. Eisenhower. Mrs. Spalding had always replied, "Surely, but sometime later," never realizing that the "sometime later" would actually occur.

LOWER ADAMS PUSHES PLANS ON NEW SCHOOL

The Lower Adams Joint School board, meeting Wednesday night at New Oxford, completed preliminary plans for a new 19-classroom high school building and announced that the board plans to begin construction of the new structure this summer.

Charles C. Taylor, supervising principal for the joint system, said the rapid development of plans for the new school is forced by the increasing number of children in the Lower Adams system.

The new elementary school at New Oxford, built four years ago to handle an expected enrollment of 450 children, is now being used by more than than 630 students.

Take Emergency Measures

To make room for the overflow attendance, a special education room has been divided into two rooms and storage rooms have been converted into temporary classrooms.

Taylor told the board that a census shows 135 new students will enter the Lower Adams system next fall. To help meet the problem of "where to put the students," the system will rent rooms in the Lutheran church at New Oxford, and will move the agricultural department of the high school next fall to a brick home on land bought by the school system as a site for its new high school. Room vacated by the agricultural department will be used to help alleviate the overcrowded conditions generally in the present high school.

With completion of the new high school, which is designed for 919 pupils, the present high school will be converted into an elementary school thus providing room for the students in the lower grades.

Make Up For Lost Days

The new high school will have 19 classrooms, auditorium-gymnasium, cafeteria, shops, offices and other facilities for a student body of nearly 1,000.

At Monday's meeting the school board elected Miss Jane Henninger, Pine Grove, who will graduate this spring from Lebanon Valley College, as a primary teacher to take over one of the new grades at the opening of school in September.

The board also voted to have school in session on Friday until 3:30 o'clock and on Memorial Day in order to "make up" for days lost during February's storms. Children who plan to attend church services Friday afternoon however will be excused from school.

Borough police listed the driver of the auto as Samuel H. Young, 22, 137 N. Stratton St., who took the child to the Warner Hospital for examination and treatment.

Mrs. Rhoads said her son and daughter, Patricia Ann Wagaman, 10, were enroute to the movies when Robert darted ahead of his sister and was struck.

Rain, Snow, Floods Lash Western Areas; Tornadoes Whip Texas And Oklahoma

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Northern California and the mountain region reeled today from heavy rains, snow and floods while sections of Texas and Oklahoma surveyed widespread damage from tornadic winds.

California was declared a disaster area by Gov. Goodwin J. Knight as fresh storms hammered the coast, blizzards pounded the Sierra Nevada area and flood dangers appeared increasing. An estimated 5,000 persons have been evacuated from their homes by the floodwaters. Earth and snow slides added further damage and stranded two trains.

Destroy 175 Homes

Tornadic winds whipped across northern Texas and southwestern Oklahoma around sundown Wednesday. Three funnels hit the Wichita Falls area, demolishig or damaging 175 homes and business houses. One man was killed, two were missing and at least 13 injured.

In California, where four deaths were blamed on the stormy weather, the Southern Pacific Railroad's City of San Francisco with 97 persons aboard was stranded in a snowshed near Donner Summit in the Sierra, 165 miles northeast of San Francisco.

A 22-car mail train on the track ahead had been buried by two avalanches of snow, stalling the westbound passenger train. The 25 on the mail train escaped. Two were injured.

200 Are Stranded

Stranded in the mountain chain that runs along California's western boundary were some 200 persons, including 150 at Donner Summit Lodge. Many were skiers.

Flood dangers threatened in Santa Clara Country, south of San Francisco, and at Stockton in the Central Valley and National Guardsmen were alerted. However, the flood threat appeared lessening a little with only light rains indicated today.

The tornado funnels in Texas and Oklahoma were part of the storm pattern over most of the mid-continent as warm Gulf air collided with cool Pacific air.

One funnel struck near the downtown area of Wichita Falls, a city of 107,000 about 140 miles northwest of Dallas. A second hit a residential area west of the city and the third struck in suburban Deandale.

Heavy damage was reported in twisters which skipped across areas in southwestern Oklahoma, in the community of Elgin and near Cement. Two persons suffered minor injuries.

Cuban Workers Ordered To Kill If Rebels Interfere

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—President Fulgencio Batista's government today authorized workers to kill if necessary to stay on their jobs when rebel leader Fidel Castro issues his long-threatened call for a general strike.

The order—one of three of the harshest decrees in the history of the Cuban republic—was issued by Batista and his Cabinet after an all-night meeting.

A second decree barred any judge from issuing a ruling against a government official or agency or against any government or legal opposition leader. Judges who failed to obey would be immediately dismissed.

The third order said any employer who ordered a work stoppage of any kind could be jailed up to six months.

Absolved Of Killing

All government ministers were authorized to issue licenses to bear arms to Cuba's 160,000 public employes and all other workers. The decree absolved workers of criminal responsibility for any steps they thought necessary—including killing—to prevent being forced into joining a strike.

The government also decreed that anyone joining a general strike would lose his job permanently. When this penalty was first applied in 1935 it quickly broke a general strike.

Despite solid support of labor union leaders for Batista, Castro claims that workers are secretly organized to follow him. He has threatened that if his rebellion succeeds, he will try for treason any officials who keep working after his strike call is issued.

More On Santiago

Two columns of Castro's rebels were reported moving toward Santiago, attacking communications as they advanced.

A rebel communique said one column of guerrillas was approaching Santiago, Cuba's second largest city and the capital of the easternmost province of Oriente, from Castro's mountain headquarters to the west in the Sierra Maestra.

Another force led by Castro's brother Raul destroyed communications around the sugar mill city

Ike Sends Congress 6-Point Pentagon Reorganization

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today sent Congress a six-point Pentagon reorganization plan. He said it would give the secretary of defense authority for truly unified military operations.

In a 7,000-word special message Eisenhower said: "We must remove all doubts as to the full authority of the secretary of defense."

Eisenhower said that separate ground, sea and air warfare is gone forever.

Change In Status

He proposed that the Joint Chiefs of Staff be continued, but said that in the future they should serve as a staff assisting the secretary of defense in his exercise of direction over unified commands.

"Strategic and tactical planning must be completely unified, combat forces organized into unified commands, each equipped with the most efficient weapons system that science can develop, singly led and prepared to fight as one, regardless of service," the message said.

Even before the message reached Congress, there had been doubts voiced by some influential legislators as to whether the secretary of defense should have greatly increased power.

Become Executive Agents

Eisenhower's program would strip the civilian heads of the Army, Navy and Air Force of direct authority over military operations. In effect, they would be left as merely executive agents.

Eisenhower also proposed—despite opposition in Congress—that in the future all appropriations for the three services be earmarked for handling by the secretary of defense, instead of being channeled by Congress to the three services.

Eisenhower suggested that procedure go into effect July 1, 1959.

The message set forth these main points:

1. "We must organize our fight-

Winston Churchill Returns To London

NICE, France (AP)—Sir Winston Churchill flew off to London today after a 2½-month Riviera vacation marred by an attack of pleurisy and pneumonia.

A drizzling rain fell as the 83-year-old statesman boarded the plane. He was bundled in a black overcoat and wearing a grey hat.

He waved aside assistance after being helped from the car but he walked slowly, with a cane in one hand and a cigar in the other. He looked pale and his face lacked its old fullness.

About 300 persons saw him off.

Churchill was accompanied by his wife, Lady Churchill; his personal secretary, Anthony Montague Browne; and his Scotland Yard bodyguard, Sgt. Edmond Murray.

His return home was approved by his doctors, and is considered a good sign that the wartime leader has recovered.

HOUSE PASSES COMPROMISE HIGHWAY BILL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House passed and sent to the Senate today a compromise $1,800,000,000 anti-recession highway construction bill.

The Senate seemed likely to approve the measure promptly and send it to the White House before Congress starts a 10-day Easter recess later today.

House passage was by roll call vote.

Bilboard Provision Stays

Previously the House defeated 222-109 an attempt to send the bill back to a Senate-House conference committee for further consideration.

Major difference between the original Senate and House versions was inclusion by the Senate of a provision intended to curb erectio of billboards along interstate highways. This provision was retained in the compromise.

House rejection of the com promise would have precluded further action on the measure until April 14, when the congressional Easter recess starting later today ends.

When someone says "it all depends" . . . when answering a query . . . I like to know for certain . . . in one way or another . . . just who is who or what is what . . . what good is half a brother . . . a straight and forward yes or no . . . lets me know where I stand . . . those who walk the middle line . . . wear a distorted brand . . . they cannot be depended on . . . for anything at all . . . for where they benefit the most . . . is where they tend to call . . . and that is why I pause and think . . . then feel a wee bit leery . . . when someone says, "It all depends" . . . when answering a query.

The leader read the Scripture and offered prayer, and a magazine quiz was held.

Routine business was transacted in charge of Mrs. Edgar A. Wolfe, president. Reports were heard from Mrs. Lloyd L. Stavely, secretary, and Mrs. Harry W. Badders, treasurer. Mrs. Stavely was appointed to be leader at the next regular meeting or Tuesday, May 6, at the church, when the hostesses will be Mrs. Allie Hollinger and Mrs. William J. Lippy. The April meeting concluded with refreshments served by Mrs. Paul E. King and Mrs. Kathryn Hull.

Leaders, assistant leaders and troop committee members of the Littlestown Brownie, Intermediate and Senior Girl Scout troops will meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the home of the neighborhood chairman, Mrs. Charles E. ## Today's Talk

THAT INNER JOY

William James, in one of his books of comments, said of Wordsworth that as he "walked, filled with his strange inner joy, responsive thus to the secret life of nature around about him, his rural neighbors, tightly and narrowly intent upon their own affairs, their crops and lambs and fences, must have thought him a very insignificant and foolish personage. It never occurred to any one of them to wonder what was going on inside of HIM — And yet that inner life of his carried the burden of a significance that has fed the souls of others and fills them to this day with inner joy." How little we know, however, about the inner life of another. Why is it that we often wait until a person dies to express our love?

What a satisfaction it is that we can contact, even though silently, those whom we admire and love! How beautiful this tribute to Wordsworth, by a very great man — William James! How much kinder we would be, and how much more considerate, if we would bear in mind that hidden something within another, and discover the inner joy of that one. We know so little of what is going on inside the lives of those so often contacted. We call them our friends. But do we know them? I have friends who have this inner joy, because they keep spilling it, even as they talk to me. There isn't a simple kindly act by us that does not live and become a part of the atmosphere of the world. Know this inner joy and you will have gained a knowledge of the values of this life that will come to you time and again.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Negative Thinkers"

LIFE

Life is full of sunshine,
Full of raindrops, too,
Full of joy and sadness
For those who live it through.

Full of happy meetings,
Full of partings sad;
Full of joys expected,
Thoughts of those we've had.

Life is not in laughter,
Not in tears that fall.
None has lived who hasn't
Known a touch of all.

LENTEN GUIDEPOSTS

THE CHILD WHO RETURNED TO LIFE
By MABEL R. BENNETT
Ocean City, New Jersey

The first time I saw Lizzie she was like a unjointed doll. There she sat all day in her chair, unable to move her body at all.

Mabel R. Bennett

From the age of six, when she contracted rheumatoid arthritis, her joints had grown together, and she could not touch her face or feed herself, or push her chair over to the kitchen sink to get a drink of water.

Now, at 12, she had been suggested as a special member of our club in Westchester County, New York—one run by a group of parents whose children were, or had been, afflicted by polio.

As a member of our Polio Parents Club, Lizzie learned to float in its swimming classes. She attended its parties and her first summer camp. And with these things, she blossomed from a retiring child confined to a wheel chair, to a typical teen-ager full of chatter, enthusiasm for hobbies and fads and jazz.

Had Friends

She had friends, and fun, and she was happy. But she longed to be able to feed herself and wait on herself.

One day she talked to me about our club motto, "With God all things are possible." Lizzie had great faith, but asked me if I really believed myself that all things were possible to Him.

"Yes, Lizzie, all things," I said without reservation.

"Do you believe that He can make me walk?"

When Lizzie asked me that, I said a silent prayer, a prayer to Him who made the lame walk and the blind to see.

Lizzie took my hesitation for doubt, and when I raised my head and looked into her intent blue eyes searching my face for the answer, I felt a surge of strength and resolution coursing through me, and I was not afraid when I said, "When the Lord walked this earth, miracles happened, Liz. I believe His spirit still walks the earth, just as His body did so many years ago. Miracles can still happen."

Prayer

That day, I stopped off in my church before going home. The church was empty. I do not know how long I stayed there talking to God, but I kept repeating St. Francis' wonderful prayer: "Lord, make me an instrument of Thy peace. . . ."

When I left the church and was walking home, still in a prayerful mood, I was brought back to earth by a friend of mine, an orthopedic surgeon, who was speaking my name. As we walked along, I told him of my prayers for Lizzie.

"Maybe," he said quietly, "maybe the good Lord sent me here today to help you with this problem. I can't promise anything, but if you will bring Lizzie to my clinic next week, I'll see what can be done."

From then on, things began to happen. Miraculous things.

Many People

A great parade of God-inspired people came into Lizzie's life. There was the juvenile judge, who had charge of funds to help the county's handicapped children. There was the executive of a big cotton mill who bought the specially made artificial joints, and the banker who knew the drug firm which sent the expensive pharmaceuticals. There were volunteers who drove Liz back and forth to parties, to the swimming pools, to the hospital.

But it was Lizzie herself who helped most of all. It was she who had the courage to face eight operations; it was she who suffered the agony of having every joint in her arms and legs broken so that artificial joints could be set in.

Before Lizzie's last operation our family moved to Washington, D. C. But Lizzie remained in touch.

Making Progress

Each letter from Lizzie told me of her progress. How she was able to move one arm and drink a glass of water all by herself! How wonderful it was to see what the back of her hand looked like! What a thrill it was to be able to have her hands meet. That she could actually use the nail polish I sent her. These letters contained the tingling record of a child returning to life.

Then misfortune came to me. Cancer. Because of it, I didn't see Lizzie for two whole years.

But finally, I went back to New York. I had written a book for children, "The Hidden Garden," and I was autographing a copy in a book store in Hastings-on-Hudson, when suddenly I looked up, and there was Lizzie. There was Lizzie walking in the door!

Tears Of Joy

Tears of joy filled my eyes, and humble gratitude to God filled my heart. I let Lizzie walk the full length of the store to meet me, and we fell into each other's arms, weeping. My 13-year-old daughter could not understand the tears.

"But, Mother, Lizzie is walking," she said. "You should laugh about that, not cry!" We began to laugh.

Lizzie's recent letter is indicative of her spirit: "My arm is coming along very good. I can put it up to my mouth to feed myself, brush my teeth, and wash my face. I never thought all this would come true, but it has, thanks to God, and Dr. D. and you. Let me know if I can help you in any way, because you helped me when I needed it, and if it weren't for you, I would still be sitting in a wheel chair. Love, Lizzie."

Lizzie — how can I tell you? How can I say it was you who helped me, helped me to know beyond a doubt that with God, all things are possible.

TOMORROW — Catherine Kreitzer who won $32,000 on "The $64,000 Question" TV program, tells how lifelong reading of the Bible has brought her solace and joy through a life of hardship.

UNIFORM RANK ACTIVITIES ARE BEING PLANNED

Preliminary plans for the Alpha Fire Company Uniform Rank to be active again this year in the summer parade season were discussed at the April meeting of the Alpha firemen, held on Tuesday evening in the engine house. Bernard G. Kebil, drill captain, requested that any members of the uniform rank who are not planning to participate in the parades to turn their uniforms in to him, and members of the company who wish to join the rank should also contact him. There are a number of uniforms available now. It is expected that drill practice will begin about May 1.

A meeting of the steering committee of the uniform rank, consisting of Paul E. Altoff, Robert C. Altoff, Glenn E. Ohler, Jay D. Basehoar and Bernard M. Selby, will be held at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the engine house.

The session on Tuesday, which was in charge of President Leslie Shinham, opened with the group singing of "America" and group prayer. Harry W. Badders, secretary, gave his report. Bills were ordered paid amounting to $1,602.60 and receipts of the evening were $212.03. Alphia Rimel Jr. was nominated for fellowship in the company, and the following investigating committee was appointed: Robert Crouse, Richard Stuller and Kenneth Shanebrook. Elmer W. Gall and Leo S. Riley were elected to membership. The names of three members were dropped from the roll on Tuesday for having removed their residence from the borough and nine names were dropped for nonpayment of dues, according to previous provisions in the bylaws.

Henry E. Waltman, chairman of the bylaws committee, read the newly written laws for the third and last time, after which they were officially adopted by the company. The committee appointed at the March meeting to make plans for sponsornig a smiker repotred that it was decided not to have an affair now. Following a member's suggestion, it was voted to purchase four additional cylinders of oxygen, as a large amount has been needed recently for emergency use, and the additional cylinders will permit having a supply at all times.

Fire Chief Glenn E. Ohler stated that four calls had been received during the month, with a total damage at $100. Truck Foreman Dennis S. Wallick noted that the International chassis for the new truck which the company is purchasing was delivered to John L. Bean Company, to be equipped, on March 27, and that delivery of the new truck is expected early in July. It was announced that the quarterly meeting of the Adams County Firemen's Association will be held on Monday in the fire hall at Aspers.

At the conclusion of the business, refreshments were served to the 53 members in attendance by the social committee, which included Herman G. Kaler, Luther Lemmon and Malcolm Harner, and who will serve at the next meeting of the company to be held on Tuesday, May 6.

Distribute Cards At Bendersville

Bendersville firemen this week began distribution of coin cards to the residents of the area served by the fire company as part of the annual solicitation for funds conducted by the firemen. The coin cards will be collected the first week of August.

Last year the program proved an excellent means of raising funds to carry on operations during the year, Duane Bretzman, chairman of the committee in charge, said today.

COMMITTEE TO PROBE NEED OF GRAND JURIES

HARRISBURG (AP) — The State Constitution revision commission today turned its attention to the need for grand juries in Pennsylvania—bodies described by some in large cities as "absolutely useless."

The judiciary subcommittee of the commission yesterday recommended that the state's 85-year-old basic law be amended to eliminate the requirement for such juries.

"They are absolutely useless in larger cities and can be evil things in the hands of a designing district attorney," said Mayor Richardson Dilworth of Philadelphia.

Rep. Edwin Thompkins (R-Cameron) granted that the grand jury system could be abolished for larger cities but argued that they are a necessary part of the court system in the less populated areas.

Table Recommendation

The commission tabled the recommendation of the subcommittee until a later date.

The 15-member body, headed by State Superior Court Judge Robert E. Woodside, has only the authority to recommend wholesale or piecemeal changes in the constitution.

It would be the duty of the Legislature, and ultimately the voting public, to bring about any constitutional changes.

Former Chief Justice Horace Stern of the State Supreme Court, said the subcommittee recommendation would merely do away with the constitutional requirement for grand juries.

Abolish Or Charge

"This would merely open the door for the Legislature to abolish the system or alter it in the future," he said.

Some members of the committee suggested informally that the grand juries be abolished only in larger cities and continued in the less populous areas.

Others advised that the operation of such juries be optional and at the choice of each individual county.

Dilworth pointed to Philadelphia as a "good example of the lack of need for grand juries and suggested that indictments be handed down directly by the district attorney.

Under present law every person accused of a criminal offense cannot be tried until a true bill of indictment is handed down against him by a grand jury.

Limited Franchise For Second Little League Here; Players Must Sign Forms By April 18

The new Little League to be organized here will operate under a limited franchise, it was revealed by Doyle K. Reid, Newville, district commissioner, who attended a meeting of local league officials Wednesday evening in the Girl Scout room of the First National Bank building.

Under the limited franchise, the new league's all-star team will be unable to participate in tournament competition this season.

Plans Outlined

In discussing the setting-up of a new league, Doyle said the area could be divided into two sections, one each providing the boys for the two leagues, or that birthdays could be used, with those of the first half of the month playing in one league and the others in the other league.

Another meeting has been set for Friday, April 18, at 8 p.m. at the Girl Scout room when the registrations will be evaluated to determine the two-league program.

Registration forms will be supplied to all schools where boys who wish to play may secure them and return the filled-out forms to the schools by April 18.

Tryouts Start April 21

Tryouts will open Monday, April 21, and run through Friday, April 25.

It was announced the season will open on Saturday, May 24, with a doubleheader.

Need Sponsors

More sponsors are needed for the new league and anyone wishing to sponsor a team is requested to get in touch with any of the league officials.

M. Hardy Nichols, league president, presided at the meeting Wednesday which was attended by directors and managers.

FRICK WON'T RULE OUT BAT MARKS IN WEST

NEW YORK (AP)—Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick today shrugged off a suggestion that he refuse to allow any batting records which may be set in the stopgap Los Angeles and San Francisco ball parks this season.

"I don't see how you can outlaw any park where major league ball is played," he said, "but I don't think the home run is going to be that much of a problem in either park anyway."

A national sports magazine said such players as Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants and Duke Snider of the Los Angeles Dodgers each would have chances of playing 88 games in the two parks and suggested Frick take steps to prevent a "joke home-run record."

"I haven't seen the Coliseum (where the Dodgers will play their home games until a park is built)," Frick admitted, "but I don't think it will be any more of a home run haven than was the Polo Grounds, for instance.

"Most of the home run hitters have their best power to right and left center or dead-away center anyway."

In converting the Coliseum, the Dodgers decided to erect a 40-foot screen between the field and the seats down the left field line, which runs some 250 feet. The left field foul line trickles a little farther—300 feet—before running into the stands.

The Coliseum layout offers 440 feet to dead center, 425-430 to left center and 390-420 to right center.

Seals Stadium, where the Giants will play, measures 355 feet down either line, 375 to left and right-center and about 410 or so to dead center.

SMALL BUT MIGHTY

GULFSTREAM PARK, Fla. (AP)—Although there are many one, two and three-horse stables in racing, they seldom include any stakes horses. But at Gulfstream Park there is a two-horse stable comprised of two stakes winners. Grand Canyon, winner of last year's $50,000 Southern Cross Handicap, and the 3-year-old Salon, winner of the 1957 Grey Stakes at Canada's Woodbine course, comprise the stable Jim Brown has on the grounds.

BOSTON HOPES ARE PERILED BY RUSSELL INJURY

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Boston's chances in the National Basketball Assn. championship playoffs well may rest on how quickly Bill Russell can recover from an ankle injury.

The 6-10 Russell injured his ankle last night in the third game of the series between Boston's Celtics and the St. Louis Hawks. St. Louis won the game 111-108.

Russell was removed from the game and taken to Jewish Hospital. X-rays showed his ankle was badly sprained.

Ready By Saturday?

Dr. Stan London said, "We'll start working on it first thing in the morning."

He said Russell "might be ready for Saturday and probably will be in the game" April 9 at Boston.

Russell hurt the ankle when he came down on it hard in the third quarter.

Last night's game, which put the Hawks ahead 2-1 in the best of seven series, was as tough a battle as the first one. The first game was won by St. Louis 104-102. Last Sunday the Celtics won 136-112.

The next game will be played here Saturday night and then the Celtics and Hawks will meet in Boston April 9.

Both columns shot up and wrecked motor and rail transport as they advanced.

The communique said thousands of armed men from the Oriente countryside soon would march on Santiago. President Fulgencio Batista's army reinforced its 5,000 or more men in Oriente, and officers expressed confidence they could defeat Castro if he risked an open battle. So far in his 16-month campaign to overthrow Batista, the rebel leader has stuck to hit-and-run guerrilla tactics.

SAFETY AWARD FOR GAS FIRM

Gas company workers here have helped win a top National Safety Council award for their organization, Manager Julian N. Estep said today. Their performance also earned a first place safety award among four operating units in the Columbia Gas System.

Manufacturers Light and Heat Co. here is included among four gas utility companies making up Columbia's Pittsburgh Group. This group won the awards with a safety record of more than 7½ million manhours of work with only seven lost-time accidents. While Columbia Gas units earned the first, second and third place awards in the NSC competition, Columbia's Pittsburgh group industrial accident frequency rate of .92 million manhours earned first place in both the industry and system safety competition.

Local gas company employees helped earn the chanpionship award by safe driving and safe working habits. None of the seven recorded accidents included an injury resulting from a motor vehicle accident. Local workers are among some 3,700 employees who drove 13,000,000 miles last year in winning the safety awards.

Workers here cited for their safety program work by District Manager C. C. Robbins are Manager Estep and Foreman L. R. Mayhall.

ing forces into operational commands that are truly unified, each assigned a mission in full accord with our over-all military objectives."

2. "We must clear command channels so that orders will proceed directly to unified commands from the commander in chief and the secretary of defense."

3. "We must strengthen the military staff in the office of the secretary of defense in order to provide the commander in chief and the secretary with the professional assistance they need for strategic planning and for operational direction of unified commands."

Not On German Pattern

It was under this point that Eisenhower said that in the future the Joint Chiefs of Staff would have the role of assisting the secretary of defense in his direction over unified command.

A presidential aide, Bryce Harlow, said in reply to questions at a news conference that this is not a move toward creation of a general staff such as thatin the old German military establishment.

4. "We must continue the three military departments as agencies within the Department of Defense to administer a wide range of functions."

But, Eisenhower added, under the new plan the civilian heads of the three services will be relieved of direct responsibility for military operations.

Circumscribed, Hedged

5. "We must reorganize the research and development functions of the department in order to make the best use of our scientific and technological resources."

6. "We must remove all doubts as to the full authority of the secretary of defense."

Eisenhower said the authority of the secretary of defense has been circumscribed and hedged about in a number of ways which not only make the burdens of his office far heavier than they need to be, but also work against the efficient and effective direction of national security activities.

KEN VENTURI AND SNEAD ARE CO-FAVORITES

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Ken Venturi is a young man with a mission in the Masters Golf Tournament, but the question is: Is he too eager?

"That is the danger," Byron Nelson, Ken's long-time tutor, said today, prior to the first-round tee-off.

"Venturi is playing beautifully. He is hitting the ball like a rifle shot. He is on fire with determination.

Driving Ambition

"I only hope he is not too intense. I don't think he is. But he is dying to win this tournament."

Winning the Masters title has bee a driving ambition of the good-looking, 26-year-old San Franciscan since he blew it with a last-round 80 two years ago, when Jack Burke Jr. won.

"I aged 20 years in those four hours," Venturi said. "Ever since that day every shot I have made has been aimed at redeeming myself."

Venturi and Sam Snead have been tabbed co-favorites at 4-1 in an unofficial "book" which has spread over the 6,980-yard Augusta National course.

Venturi is the new hotshot of the rugged professional tour, leading money winner, victor in three winter tournaments and oe of the most respected craftsmen among the pros themselves.

Snead is the ageless wonder from the Virginia Hills, at 46 still a superb athlete with a flawless swing who drives the ball like a cannon blast. He has won more golf tournaments and probably more money than any man alive but he is still followed by the ghost of dubbed putts and missed opportunities.

The starting field numbers 86 and includes most of the golf masters of the world. Seven countries in addition to the United States are represented.

GOAL TENDING TIGHTENS RACE

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thanks to the fine goaltending of Claude Evans and Marcel Paile, the chances of the Springfield Indians and Providence Reds in the American Hockey Lague's Calder Cup playoffs appear somewhat brighter today.

Providence still is on the brink of elimination by Hershey in the best-of-seven semifinal series. But Springfield's set with the Cleveland Barons is tied 2-2.

Evans came up with 23 saves last night as Springfield blanked Cleveland 2-0. Gerry Ehmann broke a scoreless deadlock with a goal at 5:44 of the second period and Floyd Smith tallied an insurance marker early in the third.

Paille helped the Reds pick up their first victory in four playoff games against Hershey's regular season champs. He made 21 stops and Providence scored the game's only goal midway in the third period when Paul Larivee defected home a 55-foot shot by Camille Bedard.

The fifth games will be played in Cleveland and Hershey Saturday night.

Bobby Thomson Is Traded By Giants

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The San Francisco Giants today traded veteran right handed hitting outfielder Bobby Thomson to the Chicago Cubs for left handed hitting Bob Speake and cash.

Thomson, whose home run in the ninth inning of the final playoff game with Brookly won the 1951 National League pennat for the Giants, had rejoined the club in mid-1957. He had been traded to Milwaukee prior to the 1954 season.

Striving to obtain more left handed hitting, the Giants get a 27-year-old outfielder who hit .232 for the Cubs last season including 16 home runs, 5 triples and 14 doubles. He hit .300 for Los Angeles in the Pacific Coast League during 1956.

BILL SKOWRON LEADS YANKEES AT THE PLATE

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

It seems Bill Skowron always starts to worry whenever he's pushed into the cleanup spot in the New York Yankees' batting order during the regular season. So Manager Casey Stengel decided he's put him there in the spring exhibitions and let him get his worryin' over early.

If Skowron still is worrying, this kind of worry could put the guys who make the tranquilizers out of business.

The Moose—not Mickey Mantle—leads the American League champs with a .415 batting average, seven home runs and 20 RBI. He rapped two homers again yesterday as the Yanks beat Washington 7-5.

Skowron helped push Yankee starter Johnny Kucks into a 6-0 lead with his slam off Camilo Pascual in the second. But the young righthander blew most of it and the score was 6-5 after the fifth when Neil Chrisley drove in three with a double. The Moose got a solo homer in the ninth off Bud Byerly.

Best pitching was at Sarasota, Fla., where Boston beat Pittsburgh 2-0. Both runs were scored in the eighth on a pair of wild pitches by rookie southpaw Joe Gibbon. The Red Sox had just one hit, Don Buddin's first inning single, through seven off Ron Kline and Bob Smith. Ike DeLock ad Leo Kiely combined for the shutout for Boston.

Jim Bunning went all the way for Detroit and allowed Cincinnati only three base runers over the last six inings, but by then it was too late. Gus Bell homered in the first and Smoky Burgess slugged one with a man on in the second to beat the Tigers 3-2. Brooks Lawrence, Charley Rabe and Jay Hook shut off the Tigers with five hits.

Tigers Buy Palys

The Tigers bought outfielder Stan Palys from the Redlegs for an undisclosed price. This may mean Cincinnati has decided to go with outfielder Vada Pinson, the rookie pheenom up from Class C. But also it might mean the Reds are ready to swap Burgess for an established outfielder.

Philadelphia caught up late on Harry Anderson's eighth-inning homer, matched a Dodger run in the 12th and finally won 4-3 in 14 innings on a bases-loaded sigle by Willie Jones. Shortstop Andre Rodgers scored a two-run homer in the ninth that gave San Francisco a 9-8 win over Baltimore.

The Chicago Cubs whipped Cleveland 8-2, scoring three in the first two innings off Mike Garcia, and socking away four in the ninth off Hal Woodeschick on Bob Speake's homer and Lee Walls' bases-loaded double.

RECOMMEND CS PROTECTION FOR MERGED BUREAU

HARRISBURG (AP) — A 26-member committee studying the impending merger of the Public Assistance and Welfare Departments today recommended Civil Service protection for all employes in the new agency.

Chairman Thomas B. Harvey, Radnor, said the intent of the recommendation is "to keep the new department entirely out of politics."

"The committee feels that it might not be possible to do this immediately, but it should be done as soon as practicable," he told the Associated Press.

The 1957 Legislature ordered the two agencies merged into a single Department of Public Welfare as of June 1, this year. Gov. Leader named the special committee to make suggestions on how the merger can be carried out.

The committee has completed a preliminary report, now in the hands of the printer, and its full findings are expected to be made public by the governor on April 14.

All of the 3,100 employes of the Public Assistance Department are now covered by Civil Service. About 3,300 of the 17,000 Welfare Department workers are covered. The remaining 13,700 Welfare Department employes are hired on a patronage basis with political sponsorship required. They include, for the most part, hospital attendants and clerical, maintenance and service help.

Another committee member, who asked not to be identified, said a recommendation also has been made to divide the merged department into six bureaus.

He listed them as Public Assistance, Mental Health, Medical and Surgical Hospitals, Children's Services, State Council for the Blind and Services for the Aging. The two present departments have overlapping responsibilities in serving the blind, older persons and children.

A third recommendation calls for decentralizing State Welfare functions to the county level. Harvey said that it was designed to give the average Pennsylvanian an opportunity to go to a single office in his county with his problems involving health, welfare or assistance instead of making an office-by-office check.

SAY RECESSION WILL RUN INTO THIS AUTUMN

GENEVA (AP) — The U.N. Economic Commission for Europe predicts the recession in the United States probably will run at least through autumn and Western Europe had better start doing something to help itself.

But the United States downturn was not blamed entirely for the European economic outlook. The commission reported the West European boom has been losing strength for two years, due in part to the tight money policies of most West European governments.

In its annual survey, the commission said the U.S. business downturn is bound to affect Western Europe through most of 1958 because American businessmen and consumers will be buying less all over the world.

Fewer U. S. Purchases

Not only will this result in fewer U.S. purchases in Europe this year but Asian, African and Latin-American countries will buy less in Europe because their own income will be curtailed by fewer orders from the United States, it said.

For the United States itself, the commission forecast lower personal income and less money to buy things. An upturn "seems unlikely before autumn at the earliest," the report said.

In London, the U.S. Embassy's top economist, Edwin M. Martin, told the American Chamber of Commerce that he believes the U.S. economy will level off by summer or fall and start an upturn by December. He added that "a depression with wide international impact is not in the cards."

The 400-page report suggested that European governments with strict credit controls could relax them as one way of softening the shock of the U.S. recession.

Nominates Pair To U. N. Commission

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower yesterday nominated Kingsley Davis of New York and Dr. Althea K. Hottel of Bala Cynwyd, Pa., to be U.S. representatives on the social Commission of the United Nations Economic and Social Council.

Both served on the commission from 1955 through 1957. Davis at present is a professor of sociology at the University of California. Dr. Hottel is dean of women at the University of Pennsylvania.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Communications Commission yesterday received application for a new radio station from Equitable Publishing Co., (Box 390), Lansdale, Pa., for a new station there on 1440 kilocycles, 500 watts, daytime.

BUTTERSCOTCH BROWNIES

Ingredients: 1½ cups sifted flour, 1½ teaspoons double-acting baking powder, salt, 4 eggs, 2 cups firmly-packed dark brown sugar, 1 tablespoon butter or margarine, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1½ cups coarsely chopped walnuts.

Method: Sift together the flour, baking powder and a dash of salt. Beat eggs in the top of a double boiler just until yolks and whites are blended; stir in brown sugar; add butter. Stir constantly over rapidly boiling water just until mixture is hot — about 5 minutes; remove from heat. Add sifted dry ingredients; mix until blended. Mix in vanilla and walnuts. Turn into well greased, lightly floured baking pan about 13 by 9 by 1¾ inches). Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven until cake springs back when touched lightly in center with fingertip — 25 to 30 minutes. Place pan on rack to cool. Cut into small squares and remove with spatula. Store in tightly covered container.

FAMILY SUPPER

Method: Melt butter in a deep 10-inch skillet; add onion and cook gently until wilted, stirring occasionally — about 5 minutes. Add beef; mash with fork over moderate heat until meat loses its red color and is in fine particles. Add tomato sauce and water; heat. Meanwhile cook elbow macaroni according to package directions; drain. Add drained macaroni to tomato sauce in skillet with salt and pepper to taste; reheat. Mix in grated Romano cheese (off heat) and turn into shallow 2-quart casserole. Sprinkle with cheddar cheese. Broil slowly until cheese topping melts. Makes 6 servings.

Stir in sifted dry ingredients gradually; chill. Roll out on prepared pastry cloth to ⅛-inch thickness; cut out in desired shapes; sprinkle with extra sugar. ## Speech Impediment Led To Broadway

NEW YORK (AP) — A speech impediment started Broadway singer-comic Iggy Wolfington on the path to show business.

"When I was about 10," recalls the featured player in "The Music Man," a current hit, "I got the performing bug when schoolmates and grownups laughed at stories I would recite.

"It was the way I talked. Finally a doctor told my mother the reason was that I could think faster than I spoke, and the words got all mixed up."

The three largest cities in Germany are Berlin, Hamburg and Munich.

Eternal Triangle In Many Homes: Wages, Taxes, Prices

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — The eternal triangle in most homes these days: wages, taxes, prices.

Moving up into a higher income bracket has been the happy lot of many American families in the last 20 years. The majority managed to translate this into a higher standard of living. But it isn't as easy as it sounds.

Taxes have gone up too. And prices have soared.

When anything happens to shrink this income even a little — loss of overtime pay, shorter work weeks, smaller profits from the family store, lowered dividends — the hurting comes quickly.

No Average Family

There is no such thing as an average family. But totals of income, taxes and prices can be averaged off statistically.

A married couple with two children would have to have a gross income of $6,457 in 1958 to be actually as well off as they were in 1939 earning $3,000.

Federal income and Social Security taxes took $30 out of gross income in 1939 and will take $772 out of the higher 1958 gross.

Need Much More Now

The loss in purchasing power of the dollar whittles $2,765 from the $6,457 gross of 1958 in terms of 1939 dollars, based on the consumer price index of the National Industrial Conference Board.

The family with a $5,000 income in 1939 must get $11,140 this year to come out even. What was left over after federal taxes in 1939 was $4,941 — the same figure left over today after the much higher taxes and the huge bite of inflation.

These are the bare statistics. But many families live better today than before the war without having doubled their incomes — although none could if their incomes hadn't gone up at all.

Several Reasons

There are several reasons. For one, any index of the cost of living is based on what the average family is presumed to spend on many goods and services. Lots of folk spend nothing on many of these items.

For another, cost cutting manufacturing processes have kept the prices of a lot of today's necessities (1939's luxuries) from rising as much as the general trend of all goods and services.

And a third reason is that many families have built up their living standards by renting rather than buying — that is, by enjoying many things acquired on monthly payment plans.

Even so the two-way squeeze of taxation and inflation on today's incomes is very real — and never more so than when incomes tend to shrink.

TURKEYS GIVE HAM RACE ON EASTER MENUS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Turkeys are forcing the traditional Easter ham to share top billing on the holiday menu this year.

Supermarket chains and neighborhood groceries are offering the onetime Thanksgiving only bird alongside smoked and fresh ham as their No. 1 attraction for the holiday weekend. This is partly due to turkey's increasing popularity as a year-around food and partly due to prices.

Hams are more expensive than normal for Easter because buyers bid up slim stocks of porkers.

Butter, Eggs Down

Some stores are offering higher-priced cuts such as rib roast of beef and sirloin or porterhouse steaks for the holiday. Shrimp, too, is a frequent "special" in seafood areas. Chuck roast and hamburger are missing for the week.

Butter is down 1 to 6 cents a pound in some areas and egg prices are down 2 to 10 cents a dozen, as predicted, over a wide area.

Best buys among vegetables are carrots, topped beets, turnips, peas and storage potatoes in areas where they're readily available. Tender new potatoes, which normally are available for Easter and Passover dinners, are slow to come to market in any great number this year. You can blame cold and wet growing weather in Southern potato fields.

Fairly Good Buys

Produce men rate collards, spinach, cabbage, endive, escarole, mushrooms, iceberg lettuce and broccoli as good to fairly good buys. Asparagus is in the same category, but reportedly shows a wide range of quality and condition. That's because heavy rains in the California growing areas are damaging and delaying the crops of "grass."

Celery, on the bargain list recently, is sharply higher this week. It's called a moderate buy, along with cucumbers, peppers, tomatoes, onions and beans. Onions, incidentally, are expected to get cheaper in three or four weeks when the delayed Texas crop starts coming to market in heavy supply.

Apples, enjoying a banner year in view of less than usual citrus competition, remain just about the best bet in the fruit department. As might be expected, however, the cheapest ones are also the most ripe and if you're planning on keeping the apples for a few days you'll have to pay more.

Cuban pineapples also look good pricewise and other good buys are Michigan rhubarb, pears and lemons. California navel oranges are reported sharply higher and Florida citrus is tapering off from a light supply.

Indiana scored only one touchdown in its first four games then beat Villanova 14-7.

STATE NAMES ENGINEERS ON PROPOSED ROAD

HARRISBURG (AP) — The State Highways Department yesterday named consulting engineers to prepare plans for a federal interstate road from the Delaware state line to a point along the Chester Pike in Delaware County.

The 7½ mile road would parallel the Delaware River.

Daman and Foster, Sharon Hill, will receive 3.49 per cent of the estimated $10,310,000 cost of the project for their work.

The firm is to do the work in four sections: (1) from the state line to Keystone road, about 2.8 miles; (2) from Keystone Road to Kerlin street ramps, about 1.6 miles; (3) from Kerlin street ramp to a point east of Ridley Creek on Chester Pike, about 1.87 miles; (4) relocation and depression of existing Baltimore and Ohio Railroad tracks and facilities, combined sanitary and storm water sewer system, the Egmont, Madison, Melrose and Potter Street bridges and highway grading and drainage from Melrose street to Ridley Creek, about 1.39 miles.

The Interstate section will be part of a Superhighway extending from the Delaware line to Trenton, N.J., by way of the Delaware River Expressway.

James MARLOW Reports

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bernard M. Baruch, tall and still well-built at 87, gave his advice this week on the recession.

He was talking to the Senate Finance Committee. Listening to him was like watching time roll back a quarter century. On Feb. 13, 1933, he gave his advice to this same committee on how to handle the depression.

What he said 25 years ago sounded strangely like what he was saying now. His advice was disregarded then. It may be disregarded now. Although he has been an adviser to every president since Wilson, his advice has often been ignored.

FDR Did Opposite

In 1933 — with 12 million people jobless just a month before Franklin D. Roosevelt became president — Baruch was warning against the dangers of inflation and advising: "To get people back to work . . . we must balance the budget."

His theme then: "Reduction in public expense is indispensable to recovery."

But when Roosevelt took office he did just the opposite from what Baruch suggested: he really unbalanced the budget with relief spending and ushered in a new concept of willingness to spend more money than the government takes in in revenue to get the economy back on its feet.

Same Old Theme

This week Baruch — ignoring any change in government philosophy — went back to his theme of 25 years ago.

He put his finger on inflation as the "biggest single peril to our economic health," rejected deficit spending as a solution to the present recession, opposed a tax cut, and even advocated a tax increase to keep the budget balanced if Congress votes big new spending programs.

But both the Eisenhower administration and the Democrats in Congress have talked of the likelihood of a tax cut if the recession gets much worse.

Gave Million In Service

A tax increase would take a sharp bite out of Baruch's income, since he's a millionaire, but he's also a man who, in his long record of service to the government, never took a dime of salary or expense and even spent his own money.

It's been estimated that he's spent more than a million dollars of his own money for government work.

When he read from his prepared paper, typed with oversized letters, Baruch put on a pair of glasses over those he was already wearing. He also wears a hearing aid that can be tuned up or off, as he pleases.

Baruch looks just as self-assured — and is just as gracious — as he was during World War II days when he was studying the rubber shortage for President Roosevelt.

Although he had a genius for making money on the stock market — he was a millionaire at 30 — his vision in other things wasn't always so acute. For example: In 1931, with the depression getting worse by the minute, he made a speech in which he said he could see prosperity returning.

EGGS IN TREES

DALLAS (AP) — A horseback Easter egg hunt will be held Saturday at a farm on the Dallas outskirts. Mrs. W. Roy Hastings, owner of the farm, said children will find eggs in trees and other high places.

DENVER (AP) — Don Romero stuck his head inside an automatic laundry machine for a brief examination. Yep. Somebody pushed the starter button. Romero, 25, is in a hospital with severe head cuts.

Michigan Village Hasn't Had Town Election In Three Years

HARRIETTA, Mich. (AP) — This farming village of 200 hasn't had an election in three years. Village Clerk George Lipar says, "The council felt they'd get elected anyway, so why waste the money?"

Under state law a village election should be held annually the first Monday in March.

"What's the use? The same old bunch is always re-elected," said Councilman Louis Lipar, 70-year-old dairy farmer and father of the village clerk. "If anyone wanted an election they could sure get one—if we had the money."

Resident Complained

Disuse of the village's franchise came to the attention of state election officials when a resident complained. Wexford County Prosecutor James Herring said he would seek a court order for a special election.

The elder Lipar said the last time a village election was held was in 1955.

Same Officers For 20 Years

"Nobody wanted the election then, but we hadn't had one in three years and we just held one," he explained. "Didn't get much response—only 20 persons cast ballots."

Harrietta has 55 eligible voters.

Lipar said all the village officials have been in office 20 years or more and the feeling is that everybody here is happy with the way things are run.

"Besides," he said, "it costs $200 to hold an election. That is more than our $158 general fund budget."

The only two paid officials are the clerk and treasurer. Each gets $75 a year.

National and state elections present no problems as they are paid for by the state.

Minister Joins Hands With A Pork Chop

NORTH LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — A minister asked guests at a dinner meeting to join hands around the table as he returned thanks before eating.

Halfway through the prayer he had the uneasy feeling that the hand on his left — that of his 16-month-old son — was greasier than it should have been before the meal started. Out of the corner of his eye, the minister saw that what should have been his son's hand was a pork chop.

Ex-Hubby Objects To Jayne's Plans

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Jayne Mansfield'e ex-husband doesn't want the actress to take their daughter to England while she makes a movie.

Paul J. Mansfield asked court permission for temporary custody of Jane Marie, 7, when the actress leaves for Europe April 26. Mansfield, who lives in Chattanooga, Tenn., with his second wife, also asked that he be permitted to have the child for six weeks each summer.

The actress, now married to actor Mickey Hargitay, previously had asked permission to take the child out of the country.

A hearing was set for April 16.

TRUCK OF COAL RUNS INTO TRAIN INJURING EIGHT

MEDINA, Ohio (AP)—A loaded coal truck the driver said he was unable to stop smashed into a diesel engine of the Baltimore & Ohio's Chicago-bound Capitol Limited near here early today, derailing 13 cars and injuring at least eight persons.

Only persons hospitalized were James Burt, 21, of LaGrange, Ohio, the truck driver; and his passenger, Herbert Bozman, 21, of Elyria.

"The brakes didn't hold," Burt said.

Six passengers from the train were treated and released at the hospital in Lodi, 11 miles southwest of here.

They were listed as: Jerry Milane, 17, and Ronnie Williams, 11, of Sisseton, N. D.; Randy Rinquest, 16, of Denver, Colo.; Neil Ayers, 53, Montclair, N. J.; Andrew Collman, 45, Brooklyn, N. Y.; and Thad Byrne, 56, Spokane, Wash.

Some Deaf Aboard

Most of some 200 passengers were in pullmans. Many were children, including a group from the Iowa School for the Deaf. Passengers were shaken up and bruised but required no hospital treatment.

One of the passengers was Fran Allison, television actress, who left by automobile to arrange other transportation to Chicago where she had an appointment for a morning show. She was unhurt.

A special train was made up to take the passengers on to Chicago. It left the accident scene about four hours after the wreck. The Capitol Limited originated in Washington, and added cars in Jersey City, N. J.

No Cars Overturned

There is a downgrade on Ohio 76 at the crossing where the coal truck was northbound. The double diesel unit was not derailed, but the impact of the collision damaged the rails. Cars behind the locomotive ripped up the track for about 700 feet. None of the cars overturned, but a few were tipped.

Relief trains were sent from New Castle, Pa. and Willard, Ohio. The railroad said it would be 48 hours before the double track was repaired.

The wreck occurred a mile south of Lodi, which is about 30 miles west of Akron, at about 3:15 a.m.

SENATORS LIKE IKE'S PLAN FOR SPACE AGENCY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators generally welcomed today President Eisenhower's plan for a new civilian-controlled space agency, but some wondered what part the Atomic Energy Commission might play.

The possibility that nuclear propulsion might eventually replace chemically fueled engines as the motive power in space had led to some suggestions that space projects be assigned to the AEC.

Eisenhower made no direct mention of the AEC in proposing to Congress the establishment of a new National Aeronautics and Space Agency to develop "an imaginative and well-conceived space program."

"That is the explosive angle," said Sen. Mundt (R-SD), a member of the newly created Special Senate Committee on Space and Astronautics.

Atomic Propulsion

Four members of the Senate space group—Senators Anderson (D-NM), Bricker (R-Ohio), Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) and Russell (D-Ga)—also serve on the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee.

"I believe there is a place for consideration of atomic propulsion in our space program," Hickenlooper said in an interview. "I'm studying the presidential space message now."

Sen. Saltonstall (R-Mass) said he expects efforts will be made to give the Atomic Energy Commission an important place in the new program, adding: "There are certain to be differences of opinion. It will be interesting to hear them."

FARM PRICES HIT NEW HIGH

HARRISBURG (AP)—The index of prices received for their products by Pennsylvania farmers reached the highest point in 4½ years last month, despite a drop in milk prices, the Pennsylvania Agriculture Department reports.

It said yesterday that the index in mid-March reached 257 per cent of the 1910-14 average, a two per cent rise since mid-february and a 20 per cent rise since mid-March 1957. The national index stood at 263 on March 15.

Milk, the No. 1 cash income of Pennsylvania agriculture, was bringing in 20 cents a hundredweight less in March than i average of $4.95 per hundredweight last month compared to $4.90 a year ago.

The department reported price increases in potatoes, hogs, beef cattle, broilers and eggs.

DEATHS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

GREENWICH, Conn. (AP)—Benjamin Harrison McKee,71, of Greenwich, grandson of President Benjamin Harrison, died Monday in Nice, France, it was learned. His mother was the former Mary Scott Harrison, daughter of the President and wife of the late James Robert McKee. McKee, who was born in the White House, had been associated with the Paris office of the National City Bank of New York before his retirement several years ago.

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP)—Royal C. Stout, 84, well-known actor of the 1930s and co-owner of a summer stock theater at nearby Lake Nuangola, died yesterday of a heart attack. He was born in White Haven, Pa.

Fraud Trial Will Be Completed Today

HARRISBURG (AP)—The trial of two men charged with defrauding the state out of $20,000 through cinders deliveries in Lancaster County drew near a close today.

Only the final summation and charge by Judge Homer L. Kreider remained before the case was to go to the Dauphin County jury which has been listening to testimony in the case since early last week.

The prosecution and defense closed their cases yesterday.

The defendants, Victor Prep, Frackville cinders contractor, and Philip J. Price, Columbia, former Lancaster County highways superintendent, are charged with entering into a conspiracy to fake the amount of cinders actually delivered.

Red Cross Drives Are Falling Short

WASHINGTON (AP)—All but 15 of Pennsylvania's 107 Red Cross chapters have fallen short of their goals but will continue efforts to reach them, says Henry V. Scheirer, volunteer fund chairman for the state.

The state is $1,953,251 short of its quota of $6,755,614, Scheirer, assistant district attorney of Lehigh County, said yesterday in a statement here.

The Red Cross Fund campaign fell about 25 million dollars short of its national goal of 95 million and was extended into April.

18-FT. TUMBLE BY TIGHT-ROPE WALKER MARS CIRCUS OPENING

NEW YORK (AP)—A tight-rope walker performing without a safety net spun off a slanting wire and plunged 18 feet to the floor of Madison Square Garden last night at the opening of the Ringling Bros. Barnum & Bailey Circus.

The accident — during the next-to-last act of a gala multidisplay program — cut deeply into the carnival mood of the 10,000 spectators.

The performer, Harold Alzana, 39, suffered a broken wrist, a broken ankle and a mild concussion. He was taken to St. Clare's Hospital, where his condition was listed as satisfactory.

Opening Season

The circus opened its 83th season with a five-day preliminary run in Charlotte, N.C., before coming to the Garden for a six-week stay.

Outlandish clowns frolicked merrily. Dressed chimpanzees monkeyed around in the center ring looking too human for comfort as they rode bicycles, danced, beat drums and hammed it up.

Daring aerialists, mocking gravity, flung themselves among bars and trapezes high above the Garden floor. Tumblers and acrobats leaped and bounded with abandon. Lions and tigers snarled at whip-snapping trainers.

Two Gettysburgians Have Had Close Contact With Revolution In Cuba And On Mexican Border

Cuba's revolution is getting to be a personal thing for a Gettysburg resident and another former resident of the town.

Norton L. Redding, 58 East Stevens St., has returned from a visit to Cuba where he was called to repair U. S. ships and found the revolution very real—on one morning four men were found hanging near the gates of the U. S. Navy base, on another occasion six Cuban rebels halted a car in which Redding was a passenger and on another occasion he met a man purported to be one of the revolution's leaders.

The former town resident, Carroll Irvin, son of Mrs. David Irvin, Carlisle St., recently set in motion a series of events which resulted in the capture of 36 Cuban revolutionaries in a floating arsenal off the Texas coast.

Say God's Forsaken Cuba

Returned from Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, where he was sent by the Naval Bureau of Ordnance to repair electronic devices on three ships, Redding met the Cuban revolutionaries during a three-day layover after completion of his work while waiting a plane back to the U. S. His first encounter was impersonal, he went to see the sight when the rising sun disclosed the hangings near the base. The second time he was enroute with acquaintances in a car which was halted by the revolutionaries and Redding sat for a long four minutes while his friends and the revolutionaries argued back and forth in Spanish before the car could move on. The man to whom to was introduced as a Cuban revolutionary general proved a "most interesting, intelligent and friendly person," Redding said.

He added: "You just can't describe the feeling in Cuba, the fighting is sporadic. You see flames against the sky and know that the rebels are burning another cane field. You visit the cities and find bullet holes where fighting has taken place, and you look around and see nothing unusual. Then you get stopped by revolutionaries. You talk to some people and you get the feeling that the majority of the poor people of Cuba feel that the revolution is a battle between the rich, that neither side will help the poor. You hear the comment that God has forsaken Cuba."

Visited Schools Too

Redding worked from February 21 to March 21—at Cuba and at Norfolk, Va., on various ships repairing rocket launchers before returning to his duties at the Naval Ordnance Plant in York.

During his three-day layover in Cuba after spending approximately two weeks there working from 13 to 20 hours a day on various ships and equipment, Redding also had time to visit the schools at the base in company with T. G. Scarborough, superintendent of the schools, whom Redding met enroute by plane to Cuba. Hee reported the schools noted for the outstanding orderliness of the pupils, ranging from first graders through high school students. "Even when they are free from school the children seem exceptionally well behaved and mannered."

Irvin Led To Roundup

Irvin came into the Cuban picture March 7, when in the course of his duties as a custom inspector at Brownsville, Texas, he stopped a car and found $200,000 in gold and pearls hidden away. Press association reports from Brownsville show that "government agents had watched since March 7 every move of the 36 Cuban revolutionaries who were seized Friday off the Texas coast in a 70-foot trawler loaded with arms."

The reports quote an unnamed U. S. Customs agent at Brownsville as saying: "Those fools never had a chance. We had a man with them all the way." The three men halted and arrested by Irvin were released, according to the report, and then agents followed them until the round-up of smugglers and arms last Friday.

Joyce is taken from the Latin "Jucunda," meaning "filled with joy."

TROUT TALKS TO YOUNG FARMERS

Roger Trout, extension agricultural engineer from Pennsylvania State University, gave an illustrated talk on "Farm Building and Materials Handling" at a meeting of the Gettysburg Young Farmers Association at Gettysburg High School, Tuesday evening.

He told the group "there is a definite trend toward larer dairy and beef herds and a shift to loose housing of the cattle.

"There are six things to consider in making any changes in loose housing: have bedding off to one side and have the pen entirely open on the one side to prevent excessive trampling of bedding; barn yards should be paved; the feeding area should be paved and possibly covered; a milking parlor should be installed with a pipe line from the milker to the bulk tank; a hospital area should be established for maternity purposes and careful planning should precede any change in the set-up."

He declared that the approximate cost of a new building, based on a herd of from 15 to 20 cows, for loose housing would be about $400 per cow, and remodeling an old barn would cost about $100 per cow.

April 8 the Young Farmers will meet at the high school at 12:45 p.m. to visit the Snyder Broiler Farm, Miller's laying cage farm and the Furloe Dairy farm all near Littlestown. April 15 the annual Ladies Night dinner will be held at 6:30 p.m. at the Trinity United Church of Christ, President Francis Walker announced.

Plan New Decorative Look For Your Window

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

If you plan to dress up a window that will house an air conditioner, better take the decorating effect into consideration when planning the new look of your window.

You don't want to splurge on expensive draperies that will be out of step with the bulge created by your air conditioner. And you don't want to risk using a design pattern that will not led a softeig effect to the mechanical gadget at the window.

Air conditioners are, of course, smaller than before. New thin types, just 13 inches deep, may be installed by the man of the house with a screw driver and saw in about 30 minutes. But you must still allow for even that small protuberance.

A tailored effect at the window seems to minimize the bulk created by the machine. The new no-iron broadcloth cafe curtains hung in tiers give a decorative look without sacrificing charm. Avoid using curtains or draperies that must be pulled clear across the area.

Window shades may be used above the conditioner so that light may be let in and shut out at will, without disturbing your cafe curtains. Fold-wood window shade similar to the kind that grandma used on the veranda, lend a chic effect, without closing out light completely.

Other designer window shades in tweedy patterns and nubby, silken textures are available to enliven this area, without overwhelming it.

There are interesting shade pulls, too — wooden and brass rings and crystal prisms.

Display Accessories

A valance of swagged material or an interesting cornice may create a focal point of interest at the window. If two windows close together harbor just one air conditioner, frame each window in its own draperies to reduce distortion.

If the lower sill of an unobstructed window is deep enough, use it to display an interesting collection of accessories in a variety of shapes and heights to help balance the windows. Glass decanters and other lightly scaled articles are good choices. Trailing ivy plants are always a pleasant filip to a room.

More decorating skill is required to decorate around an air conditioning unit used in the living area, which is the more elegant part of the house.

The dining area, where the machine is popular because of the need for cool air at eating time, requires less imagination at a window, and the tailored look may offer the answer.

FRAME THAT AIR CONDITIONER. . .Tailored curtains and fol wood shades lend drama to a dining room window.

Bank Develops A Sum-Dial Computer

PITTSBURGH (AP) — There is something new under the sun — it's a "sum dial."

The sum dial is a pocket-size computer introduced by the Fidelity Trust Co. of Pittsburgh. It figures, in less than 30 seconds, the amount of money a person should deposit periodically in saving for a specific goal. It even takes into consideration compound interest.

The operator sets the indicator at the amount of his savings goal, then locates on the dial the savings period to be used. Opposite that figure is the amount of the periodic deposit.

DELAWARE BANS DEATH PENALTY

DOVER, Del. (AP)—Capital punishment is banned in Delaware after being in effect for 320 years.

Gov. J. Caleb Boggs signed a bill outlawing the death penalty yesterday. It had been permitted in the state since 1638.

Another Delaware law passed during Colonial times permits lashing at whipping posts. It continues in effect.

The bill outlawing the death penalty was introduced April 4, 1955, by State Sen. Ellwood F. Melson Jr. (R - Claymont). It passed the Senate last June and was sent to the governor last week after receiving House approval.

It has been 11 years since Delaware's last execution by hanging.

Atty. Gen. J. Donald Craven, a Democrat, had asked that capital punishment be retained for extraordinary cases such as the slaying of a guard during a prison break. Boggs, a Republican, signed the bill over Craven's protest.

Easter's Untold Stories

Cyrenian's Life Changed Forever After He Took Up Christ's Cross

EDITOR'S NOTE: The third in a four-part series on minor characters in the Easter drama, this is story of Simon, who without plan or warning suddenly found himself intimately involved in Jesus' final hours.

By GEORGE CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

Like many another tourist, Simon saw the martial procession coming down the hill from the Fortress Antonia. Curious, he stopped to watch it. He could make out three prisoners, each carrying a heavy wooden beam.

It seemed queer — a hanging in the holiday week. Simon shrugged, worked the betel nut in his jaw, and spat.

He was a giant of a man, dark of skin, with a proud, erect stance. His massive hands were calloused, and he had the sun-crinkled eyes of a farmer. But his turban and mantle were of finest woven wool.

He came from Cyrene, in Libya's fertile, coastal hills where he and his sons, Rufus and Alexander, raised great fields of cotton. Marketing business may have brought him on his trip to Jerusalem.

SIMON OF CYRENE

Roman Herald Leads

From up the street, the formation approached slowly, led by a Roman herald bearing the decree of execution.

Behind trudged the prisoners, prodded along by four soldiers. Others marched at the rear, their orange-colored capes rippling at their backs. A centurion moved at the side of the column, occasionally snapping orders.

Simon found his attention riveted on one of the victims, a slender, bearded man, whose face was scratched, blood-streaked and puffed with ashen bruises. His arms bore the jagged gashes of the metal and bone-tipped lash.

Neither of the other two men, both burly, vicious-looking ruffians, showed any signs of a flogging. Only the one appeared gravely hurt and weakened. Red stains soaked the back of His robe.

Determination Undimmed

Yet, with all the marks of abuse and injury, there was about Him a formidable strength. He was broken, crushed, but somehow, still relentlessly determined in His walk of doom. Simon felt a surge of admiration.

The crowd had thickened, but when the big man from Africa stepped forward a bit, the others edged aside, opening a path. He had not intended to move closer, but the action came involuntarily.

His ears picked up scatterings of talk now and some of the onlookers pointed their fingers. "The Nazarene," they said. "The disturber, Jesus." The other two condemned men were said to be bandits, Dysmas and Gestas.

The hands of all three were tied, held aloft athwart the wooden beams which rested on their right shoulders. To Simon's practiced eye, the boards looked about four cubits (six feet) long, about two palms wide and three fingers thick. These were the horizontal pieces of the crosses on which they would die. The uprights already were in place on Calvary.

Simon's Eyes Narrowed

Simon's eyes narrowed resentfully as he watched the agonized progress of the Nazarene. The man's breath came in light, rapid gasps, and He tottered uncontrollably each time He advanced a foot.

Then, just as the prisoners came abreast of Simon, the Nazarene stumbled on a jutting cobblestone and pitched forward on the pavement. The board slammed against His back.

Simon Chosen

A soldier cursed. Another one, muttering, slid the board free, and the centurion came running up to get the prisoner back on His feet. Once up, the officer surveyed Him dubiously and shook his head.

Then his irritated gaze swept the crowd. Simon stood out, a natural physical specimen for a heavy load. The centurion jabbed a finger at him — "You!"

Simon eyed the soldier warily. He didn't like jumping to Roman commands. Then he glanced at the battered prisoner, and that puzzling attraction, another sort of command, rang in him.

He wiped his lips and strolled over beside the crossbeam. With a quick, easy dip of powerful arms, he swung it to his shoulder. Then he turned and for the first time his eyes met those of Jesus.

It was only an instant, but to Simon it held an eternity of affection received. Those eyes, despite all the man's mistreatment, swam with a strangely rich animation, with a deep knowledge and immense love.

"Sort Of Brotherliness"

There was something else, too, a sort of brotherliness, as if in the flash of a single look, He knew you utterly, through and through, and made you a cherished companion. There were no guarded reservations, no barriers in those eyes.

Never before had Simon felt so fully wanted, so genuinely needed and approved. It wasn't so much gratitude that he saw in that look, but a limitless understanding that smiled approval and kinship.

At a barked order, the procession resumed, and Simon stepped along beside the prisoner, hardly aware of the weight on his shoulder. It seemed light as straw, and he couldn't shake off a baffling sensation. He had an urge to thank this condemned man, Jesus, for the chance to carry the beam. It just didn't make sense, this feeling he had of being especially good and worthy, because he walked with this man to Calvary.

Jesus walked more steadily now, and Simon heard Him sigh with relief. It was about six furlongs (three fourths of a mile) out to the hill of crucifixion — called Golgotha, place of the skull.

Seeds Of Faith

No record tells what conversation passed between Simon and Jesus on that somber walk together, but it is possible that they spoke, that Jesus explained His lone, wonderful, terrible mission to the world.

"I am the good shepherd . . . I lay down my life for the sheep." A farmer would understand such language. ". . . I lay down My life, that I may take it again. . . . He who believes in Me, though he die, yet shall he live again."

They reached the hill.

The prisoners were stripped, and laid on their backs while their outstretched arms were nailed to the crossbeams. These were then hoisted to the stakes, the beams lashed in place, and the victims' feet nailed to the stakes.

Simon could help Jesus no more. The hours of torture began — the crawling, creeping, muscle-cramping, lung-constricting horror of crucifixion — the slow death of pain — one of the cruelest forms of execution ever devised.

Loud were the taunts. Bitter the mockery. And Jesus implored, "Father, forgive them. . . ." The soldiers gambled, and the crowd gawked. "My God, my God. . . ." The sky turned black and the earth shook. "It is finished!"

Slowly, Simon turned and walked away. The big African would never be the same again. His strong arms had taken him into the embrace of stronger arms still.

In the years afterward, Simon from Cyrene labored with Jesus' apostles, as did his two sons. He had discovered, suddenly and without plan, that life's greatest compensation came when he took up a cross and followed Jesus.

Several American Girls See World In Separates

GUIDE BOOK PORTUGUESE: Terry looks up phrases in her English-Portuguese dictionary as she tries to ask directions of a Rio food vendor who carries his stock on his head. Behind them are some of the old buildings of downtown Rio. Terry is dressed for sightseeing in a cool and dainty overblouse of white drip-dry dacron-and-cotton with lace trimming, which she also wears with her skinny suit in New York.

SIGHTSEEING: Peggy gazes at landmarks on the Avenida Rio Branca, Rio's Broadway. Her passport-perfect outfit is shirt-and-skirt in blue and white drip-dry seersucker, which needs no ironing.

American girls can go around the world in blouses and skirts — and look at home in any capital.

It's a talent developed in the U. S. A. — this ability to mix and match tops and skirts to produce costumes in any degree of formality, suitable for any climate.

And whether it's Paris or Rio, Tokyo or Calcutta, you can always tell an American girl by her casual well-groomed look, her easy air of being correctly and comfortably dressed, her skill in accessorizing the simplest shirt-and-skirt outfits with the right touch of color, the correct handbag, the imaginative scarf.

This year blouses come in an endless range of colors, styles and fabrics, to enable smart separates fans to assemble their favorite wardrobes. Overblouses are popular in the new chemise silhouette, and may be teamed with a coordinated skirt to look like a dress.

New wash-and-wear fabrics make easy life for the blouse fancier, too. For she can dunk out her blouses at night and wear them again in the morning without the touch of an iron.

That's one reason American girls can travel light and always look bandbox-fresh.

SIMPLE TO MAKE HANDBAG STYLED FOR HER EASTER

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Little girls are just as accessory-wise these days as their mothers. And the youngest lady in in the house is going to expect not only a new Easter dress, but also all the trimmings, including a new handbag.

Such accessories can run into does some careful figuring. Local sewing center experts suggest one way to save — making the handbags at home.

A triangular handbag in candy-pink velvet, machine embroidered to give an unusual striped effect, should delight any small charmer. Here's how to make it:

The bag requires ⅜ yard of pink velveteen, ¼ yard of pink taffeta, ¼ yard of white cotton flannel and 14-inch neckline zipper.

Pattern Of Heavy Paper

Make a pattern of heavy paper. The bag consists of three sides that are stitched together, forming a point at the bottom, and a triangular top fastened by a zipper. For the three sides draw a triangular with one straight side and two curved sides, measuring 5⅞ inches lengthwise and 5 inches across. Add an extra half-inch all around for seam allowance. For the top draw the same size triangle, with all three sides curved. Cut out paper pattern.

Back the velveteen with cotton flannel and quilt the whole piece before you start to cut. Quilt vertically, in contrasting color thread, using your favorite stitch. A seam gauge will keep the spacing even.

Then cut out pieces — the three sides and top. Cut the same pieces in taffeta for lining. Cut one piece of cardboard to use for stiffening the top. Cut a bias strip 2 by 15 inches for the handle.

Sew Along Curved Lines

Sew side sections together along curved lines, so all points meet at the bottom of bag and all straight edges form top of bag. Turn to right side. Repeat for lining. Top stitch along both sides of seams on right side. Repeat for lining.

Fold zipper to find center and pin center to center front seam of bag. Ends will extend along two sides and around the corner onto the third side. With right sides of zipper and bag together, top stitch zipper to top edge of size section. Stitch top to side sections between ends of the zipper. Stitch other side of zipper tape to edge of top. Press seam open and top stitch section between ends of zipper.

Handy For Beach

To make bias cording for handle turn both edges of bias strip in ⅜-inch and fold again in center. Slip stitch folded edges together. Turn back ends of cording and whip stitch, to end the strip with a curled section like a fiddle top. Loop ends once to form a knot. Whip stitch knot to center of top.

Insert lining in bag and slip stitch to zipper tape. Place cardboard piece between lining and top of bag, slipping edge under zipper tape. Slip stitch lining to zipper tape.

After you get the knack of making this four-section bag, you'll probably want to make several, in different sizes. Big ones are handy for the beach, if they're lined in plastic. A black satin one would make a wonderful evening bag. The decorative possibilities are unlimited, thanks to the many embroidery stitches which may be done automatically on the new sewing machine.

Order Deportation Of Pittston Alien

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Russell Bufalino of Pittston, Pa., has been ordered deported as an undesirable alien.

The order was released by the U.S. Immiration and Naturalization Service as a result of hearings before Examiner Abraham Gold earlier this year. The hearings were called after it was revealed that Bufalino, a native of Sicily, had attended the alleged gangland meetin at Apalachin, N. Y. last November.

Mrs. Lena Orlow, Bufalino's attorney, announced the decision and said she planed a appeal. She has until April 12 to do so.

She said the 30-page finding released by Gold's office did not set a definite time or place for Bufalino's departure.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — One of three convicts who escaped Tuesday night from Moyamensing Prison was recaptured here Wednesday after a series of gun battles from Bridpeport, Pa., to Philadelphia.

Philadelphia police surrounded Robert Payne, 23, and Alex Brown, 27, near Temple University Hospital on N. Broad street. After shots were fired, Payne was recaptured.

ISRAEL INTENDS TO WORK ON ITS LAKE PROJECTS

CAIRO (AP) — The situation on the Israeli-Syrian border was easier Tuesday after a day without fighting. But Israel made plain she intends to go ahead with the Lake Huleh reclamation project, raising the possibility of new clashes.

Mahmoud Fawzi, foreign minister of the United Arab Republic, left for Zurich Wednesday to talk with U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold about the fighting Sunday and Monday on the Israeli-Syrian border.

The Middle East News Agency said the U.A.R. will hold up a request for a Security Council meeting on the clashes because the U.N. Armistice Commission has succeeded in quieting things. The report added that the request will be kept on file, however.

Emergency Session

Israeli Foreign Minister Golda Meir said in Jerusalem after an emergency Cabinet session that her government intends to carry on with the Huleh project.

The U.A.R. has accused Israel of aggression in the Huleh truce area and warned that Arab forces would not stand idly by while Israel attacks Syria. Israel claimed that Syrian troops opened fire first on the Israeli workers. The two forces swapped tank and artillery shots for several hours Sunday and Monday but only a few casualties were admitted by each side.

Surgeons Flip Coin To Make Some Decisions On Cancer

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

CHICAGO (AP)—The flip of a coin is deciding some cancer patients' chances for longer life.

The coin decides whether they will or won't be given anticancer drugs at the time of cancer surgery. The drugs are aimed at killing escaping cancer cells which could start new cancers elsewhere in the body later.

Doctors and scientists think such use of drugs greatly boosts the chance for cure, for killing all the cancer. The drugs do marvelously well in animals.

Can't Play God

But they don't know whether it's wise, or indeed essential, to use the drugs along with surgery in humans.

Human tests are the only way to find out. Some people can be given the drugs, others not.

But who? Deciding each personal case would be like playing God. So the decision is made by flipping a coin. That's actually one of the best ways of statistically choosing a random sample.

Dr. Warren H. Cole, surgeon in chief of the University of Illinois Research and Educational Hospitals, described the cancer experiments today to science writers making an American Cancer Society tour of leading research centers.

"Look Promising"

The drugs are introduced into the surgical wound and injected by vein at times after the operation.

How well they work may take two more years to learn, but early results "look promising," Dr. Cole said.

Once there is real evidence that the drugs can save lives, they will be given to everyone undergoing most cancer surgery, he said.

CHANGE NAME FOR $75,000?

OMAHA (AP)—If he is willing to change his name, The Rev. Glen Victor Alty of Snyder, N.Y., can get the bulk of a $75,000 estate.

Norris P. Crafts of Omaha so provided in his will.

Crafts, a postal clerk who died March 24 at the age of 79, built his estate through real estate transactions, a close friend said when the will was filed for probate yesterday.

The will provides that Mr. Alty, a nephew of Crafts, will get the bulk of the estate if he willing to change his name to Crafts and if he has a son.

Crafts had no children and friends said he drew up his will requesting Mr. Alty to take the name Crafts so the name would be perpetuated.

Mr. Alty is given a year to decide whether he wants to accept the provisions. If he rejects the request he will receive an interest bearing $500 bond or $1,000 in cash, the same bequest made to a dozen other relatives of Crafts.

In Snyder, a suburb of Buffalo, the Rev. Mr. Alty said today, "I have not been notified officially and I've made no decision."

York Newspaper Is Sued By Sheriff

YORK — Three executives of the York Gazette Company were released on $500 bail after being arraigned before Alderman Paul C. Barnhart on a charge of criminal libel brought against them by Sheriff Lyman A. Stambaugh.

Alderman Barnhart said a hearing will be held at 1:30 p.m. Friday.

Stambaugh filed the information against the York Gazette Company; Charles M. Gitt, company president; James Higgins, assistant editor, and Edward K. Schaeberle, managing editor. The warrants and copies of the information were served on the newsmen by Constable Gordon E. Ward.

The information charges the newspaper published an article on March 28, 1958, concerning a debtor sale conducted by deputy sheriffs and alleges the article contained "defamatory statements . . . tending to blacken the reputation" of Stambaugh.

HAS NEW PLAN TO CREATE JOBS

WASHINGTON (AP) — "The government can prime the pump, but not enough," said Sen. Martin (R-Pa) Tuesday in reference to federal aid to economically depressed areas.

The senator asserted, however, that he is willing to talk compromise with Democratic sponsors of bills to provide federal assistance to industry in such areas.

Martin, now running out his final term in the senate, is sponsor of an administration measure to create a 50-million dollar revolving fund for loans to enable industry to create new jobs.

His bill differs widely from measures co-sponsored by Sens. Clark (D-Pa) and Douglas (D-Ill).

The Clark-Douglas bill is similar to one sponsored by Rep. Flood (D-Pa) in the House. It would establish a 325 million dollar fund for loans and direct grants in some cases in depressed areas, both urban and rural.

Martin said that although he believes that job-creating efforts must come primarily from industry he favors accelerating public works programs to provide jobs for the unemployed.

BEAUTY, WORK CAN BE DONE AT SAME TIME

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

The average housewife may not admit it to her husband, but she has plenty of time on her hands these days.

As a matter of fact if she can keep her eye on the kitchen clock, she'll have little else to do. There are so many push button features in today's kitchen, with gadgets spinning, washing ,percolating, baking, blending, chopping and mixing, that all one needs is a good sense of timing and an electric clock that needs no winding to get through the day.

But not a second need be wasted. The kitchen mechanic may put this time to good use in enhancing her appearance. Three minutes to mix a cake? Just enough time to put on a fresh coat of nail polish. Sixty minutes of clothes in the dryer? That'll be just right for setting a home permanent wave.

Ideal For Shampoo

The kitchen basin is an ideal place for the shampoo, too, if you have a spray attachment in the sink. So that can be timed to the dishwasher. When your hair is clean so will be the dishes. Take time now to put them away.

Exercises may be timed to the washing machine. Vibrations from the machine will reach you in the living room, no doubt, so plan your exercises from wash to spin. Then there will be time to remove your clothes from the washer in between glamor treatment.

After the casserole is in the oven, soak your feet in a basin of sudsy water as you relax with a newspaper or magazine. If the children can be kept at bay maybe you can run this session into a pedicure. If you can't it'll make you feel good to have this end-of-the-day foot bath.

Need A Mirror

Every kitchen should have a mirror in a convenient place, and there should be room in the ice box for a bottle of astringent or skin tonic. A good face creaming in the middle of the day as you labor over your chores will set up your complexion for that man's arrival.

Many a beauty session is postponed because Mom is on kitchen duty. But if you get in the habit of doubling up your beauty tricks with your work tricks, you can be a beautiful work horse.

Hamburgs Served To Patrons On Flatcars

NEW YORK (AP) — Jack Lewis has put his hobby of running model railroads to work in business right in mid-town Manhattan — shuttling hamburgers to hungry customers of his restaurant.

The hamburgers come in from the kitchen on a string of flatcars, the locomotive's lights blink, the whistle hoots and the meat stops right in front of the customers. Lewis gets a lot of children in to watch, but he says plenty of more sophisticated people come in too — writers from nearby radio studios, Rockettes from Radio City and people from the Museum of Modern Art.

Lord Moran has been personal doctor to Sir Winston Churchill for 20 years.

WOMEN GAINING IN WAGE FIGHT

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The world's women, under the banner "equal work, equal pay," were making steady progress in the long battle for wage equality with men.

A report by the International Labor Organization (ILO), prepared annually to provide information on the results of efforts by U.N. members to eliminate wage discrimination against women, shows wage discrimination against women still exists but is being slowly reduced.

In the United States, congressional hearings are expected this year on some of the many federal equal pay bills introduced by women lawmakers.

On the state level, the State Federations of Business and Professional Women's Clubs are playing a big role. In Wisconsin and Ohio equal pay bills have been introduced by federation members.

In New York and Pennsylvania the state federations having been working to revise existing equal pay legislation to enforce the extension of coverage to all employes.

California passed a strengthening amendment to equal pay legislation last year and Nebraska adopted a resolution favoring it.

In Florida, Indiana, Iowa, Minnesota, Utah and Wisconsin, equal pay bills were intrduced. In Illinois, New Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania, amendments were introduced with a view to improving existing legislation on equal pay.

William Congreve, the 18th Centry English dramatist, was a law student before turning to literature.

RATS EXERCISE FOR SCIENCE IN HEART STUDIES

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A study of an unusual group of "athletes" at Michigan State University may reveal important information on the effects of exercise on the heart and vital organs.

The "athletes" are three groups of white rats.

Group A leads a sedentary existence, sleeping, eating and generally taking life easy.

Group B exercises at will by running in whirling cages. They average between two and three miles of galloping a day, the researchers say.

Group C has a strict daily exercise routine. The rats in this group run on a treadmill or swim for an hour. Small weights are attached to the swimmers to give them a real workout.

Given Electrocardiogram

Periodically the rats are given a physical examination, complete with an electrocardiogram.

After six months of this routine, all the rates will be compared as to size and growth of heart, liver, endocrine glands, spleen, kidneys and other vitals.

Dr. Henry J. Montoye, associate professor of health, physical education and recreation, heads the research staff. Of particular interest, he says, is whether the exercises result in a richer and healthier blood supply by opening more capillaries to the heart and other vital organs.

Dr. Montoye said the findings could be important in the prevention of heart diseases.

SEEK FOURTH ESCAPED 'CON' IN PHILA. AREA

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Police today pressed their search for the last of four men who staged a daring break for freedom at the gates of Moyamensing Prison.

Still at large is Christopher J. O'Neill, 39. Recaptured yesterday were Robert Payne and Alexander Brown, both 23. The fourth man, Francis A. Murphy, was caught by pursuing police moments after the break Tuesday night.

Detective Capt. William J. McGowan said the search for O'Neill may be a long one, since the ex-convict has numerous underworld contacts. The FBI will be called into the case if it appears O'Neill has left the state, McGowan added.

Got Cop's Gun

The trail of the two captured convicts was picked up yesterday in Norristown. Detective John McKernan received a telephone call that the two escapees were in a rooming house at the east end of town. As McKernan and other detectives approached the house, Brown and Payne fled through the back door.

State trooper Joseph Caracci of the Belmont Barracks spotted the pair near the Bridgeport Borough Hall. He ordered them to halt. One of the escapees swung and knocked Caracci to the ground and the other grabbed his gun. Both fled across the railroad tracks behind the Borough Hall. The escaping convicts fired several shots at Caracci during the chase, one of which hit his patrol car.

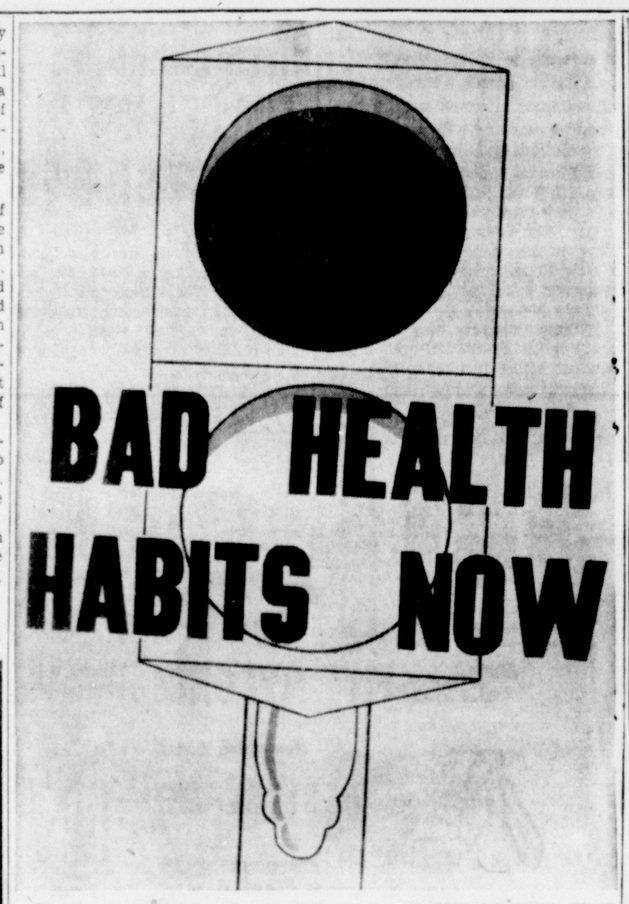

Payne and Brown forced a moving van driver, John Clark, 50, to drive them back to Philadelphia. The convicts left the truck in the northwest section of the city. Shortly afterward they were seen a few blocks away. Police and the fleeing convicts exchanged shots, and the pursued pair split up.

Face 11 Charges

Payne was captured later when he tried to force a motorist to drive him away. He was subdued after a vicious struggle and then taken to Temple University Hospital for treatment for cuts.

Police then learned that Brown had commandeered a truck on N. 16th St. He forced the driver, Charles Stevenson, 53, to drive him to Morrisville. Police spotted Brown as he was doubling back toward Philadelphia. He surrendered meekly.

Both Payne and Brown were scheduled for hearings today on 11 separate charges growing out of the escape.

Fish Net Snarls Fire Truck Wheels

GALILEE, R.I. (AP)—Fire fighters were called to put out a blaze aboard a fishing boat tied up at a pier and had more trouble with a fish net than they had with the fire.

A big net became entangled in the wheels of a fire truck. For two hours the firemen tugged and hauled to no avail. Finally, they jacked up the truck, removed the wheels and unsnarled the net.

The fire was not serious.

Karen Jacoby, Gettysburg R. 3, a Fifth grader at the Arendtsville Elementary School, won first prize of $15 in the Fifth and Sixth grade division of the annual health post contest conducted by the county medical society. The 113 posters entered in the contest were judged Sunday.

NEW YORK (AP) — The aircraft carrier Corregidor suffered a crack in her hull in heavy seas in the Atlantic Tuesday night. She took in some water but was reported in no immediate danger of sinking.

The carrier was limping today toward the Azores for emergency repairs. Aboard were 20 officers and 150 enlisted men.

Ike Asks Congress To Create Civilian Agency To Run U.S. Space Exploration Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower Wednesday asked Congress to create a new civilian agency to run America's space exploration program.

His request was in a special message. It went to the legislators immediately after a news conference at which the resident said he will have another special message today on his program for reorganization of the Defense Department.

One aim of the defense reorganization plan, Eisenhower said, is to strengthen authority of the secretary of defense in military strategy matters.

Would Absorb NACA

Eisenhower's message said the new space agency would absorb the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics and would be responsible for an imaginative and well-conceived program.

The new agency would administer space projects as well as conduct space research. It would cooperate closely with the Defense Department in carrying out some military space research, but the accent would be on peaceful uses of outer space.

Eisenhower called it the "National Aeronautics and Space Agency."

He said it would be run by a civilian director, backed up by a space board composed of government and private experts.

Orders Interium Program

While the new agency is being set up, Eisenhower said he is ordering an interim program of space technology and exploration.

This program, already announced, includes plans to launch a number of unmanned space vehicles uder direction of the Pentagon's Advanced Research Projects Agency.

Earth satellites and moon explorations are included.

Eisenhower asked for early enactment of appropriate legislation to set up the proposed new agency.

One From Pentagon

He proposed that the legislation provide for members of the space board to include representatives from government agencies directly interested in aeronautics, space science and space technology.

At least one member would come from the entagon to assure that military factors are considered by the board.

Board members outside the government, he added, should be eminent in science, engineering, technology, education or public affairs.

Eisehower said it was not clear yet how much authority the new agency would need because there are conditions in the space age that cannot now be fully foreseen.

To Learn All It Can

He said the agency should pay attractive salaries, conduct research in its own facilities as well as by contract with qualified groups, cooperate with the Defense Department and learn all it can about the problems of flight within and outside the earth's atmosphere.

At his news conference, Eisenhower indicated that his defense reorganization message will stress the importance of giving the secretary of defense authority commensurate with his responsibility.

The secretary, he said, has direct responsibility in making strategic plans and supervising their operation.

He said he will suggest that Congress give Secretary McElroy additional financial flexibility, to make possible day-by-day changes in the military setup to meet changing conditions.

Eisenhower said the secretary must wield the decisive influence in over-all planning, supported and advised by the Joint Chiefs of Staff who must run the separate services for him.

Substantial two-party backing for the entagon reorganization plan, and also for an upcoming proposal for an agency to direct civilian space exploration efforts, already had been indicated on the basis of advance reports.

McElroy and his chief deputy, Donald Quarles, were called to session of the Senate Preparedness subcommittee today to tell what the military are doing to meet problems of hte missile-satellite age. The meeting was postponed from Wednesday.

Amateur Acting Courses Enlarged

STRATFORD, Conn. (AP) — The American Shapespeare Festival Theater and Academy is expanding its training program for the benefit of college and nonprofessional theater craftsmen.

Two courses will be given during the summer in cooperation with the Yale University Shapespeare Institute and the University of Bridgeport to provide graduate credits. The classes will discuss teaching and producing of Shakespearean works.

Only one golfer, Cary Middlecoff, has played in all five Las Vegas Tournaments of Champions. The tournament admits only golfers who won a major PGA event during the preceding 12 months.

WANTS AGENCY TO COMBAT ALL UNEMPLOYMENT

By JOHN KOENIG JR.
AP Special Washington Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Holland (D-Pa) has suggested creation of a governmental agency like the war-time Manpower Commission as a means of combatting unemployment in Pennsylvania and the nation.

"Our problem is more oe of displaced workers rather than unemployment," Holland told a newsman.

To meet this situation, he said, a governmental group could be set up to study the over-all unemployment situation. Its job would be to look into any major unemployment situation and find why it has occurred.

This group, acting either directly under the President or within the Department of Labor, Holland said, could then devise ways of meeting the situation.

3 Questions Faced

"The questions to be faced," Holland said, "would be whether the employes' jobs are permanently gone, and if so, whether to retrain the men for other jobs, move them to areas where other jobs exist or attempt to bring replacement industries into the depressed area."

Holland said he is looking into all aspects of his proposal and eventually expects to come up with a bill on the subject.

The coal and railroad industries, in particular, Holland said, are examples of the displacement of workers.

Mechanization in the mines in recent years has meant fewer jobs, he said. Similarly, the introduction of diesel engines has meant fewer railroad jobs.

"Automation everywhere is replacing workers," said Holland. "All so-called expansion in the mills is due to automation."

Holland, a one-time labor organizer, noted that technological progress is not opposed by labor but that the workers who are placed must be given other jobs.

Put People Where Needed

Automation even occurs in public works construction—one of the means proposed of stimulating the economy in the present recession, he said.

In wartime every means of speeding up production is welcomed, Holland pointed out. But a peacetime economy, he said, must find ways of using its products—the ways of buying and selling.

A peacetime agency duplicating the Manpower Commission of World War II might go far toward solving this problem," he said, by placing people where they are needed and thus spreading purchasing power.

COUPLE MARRIES FOR SECOND TIME

NEW YORK (AP) — A British heiress and a shipping clerk, world-trotting elopers, were married here on Tuesday for the second time in two months.

Dominic Elwes, son of a British portrait painter, and the former Tessa Kennedy said they went through the second ceremony because their first marriage in Havana was in Spanish and they "couldn't understand a word of it."

The couple was married on Jan. 27 by a notary public in Cuba after traveling from Scotland to find an official who would perform the ceremony. The bride's father, Geoffrey Farrar Kennedy, had obtained a writ to prevent the marriage in England or Scotland on grounds that his daughter, 19, was too young.

Elwes, 26, told newsmen the Havana wedding was legal and binding. Justice Henry Clay Greenberg performed the second ceremony in his chambers in State Supreme Court.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower asked Congress Wednesday for an extra $1,455,747,000 in defense appropriations, mainly to acquire B52 bombers and build more missile-firing submarines.

His request was in the form of a memorandum to the House Appropriations Committee asking for an increase of that amount in the defense budget for the year starting July 1. If granted, this would boost fiscal 1959 defense appropriations beyond 40 billion dollars.

Many Women Are Sewing The New Popular Chemise Dresses; Test Of New Fashion

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

All over the country women are sewing chemise dresses like mad.

This is the final test of a new fashion. When the home seamstress accepts it, you can be sure it's here to stay for a while.

Sales of chemise patterns are booming, says Albert Chaiken, one of the country's top pattern designers. Within less than two months, a chemise dress made the "top ten" list of best-selling patterns.

"There are several reasons behind this mass acceptance of the new chemise style," says Chaiken who, as head designer for McCall's Patterns, has guided home seamstresses through such major style changes as the "new look" of 1947 and the Empire silhouette of 1954. "It's easy to sew, for one thing, and fitting problems are cut to a minimum. Also, it gives women a chance to try out the new style without ruining their clothing budgets."

Many Chemise Patterns

Most pattern companies are including increasing numbers of chemises in their spring lines. The styles are spread through all age groups, including misses, juniors, teens, children and toddlers.

The chemise silhouette appears in several versions. Most widely accepted in the loose-fitting shift, tapered at the hem and accented at the neckline. The middy look is part of the same fashion story, and is represented in either the classic two-piece middy or the semi-fitted dress with hipline cuff or belt, giving it a two-piece look. Also popular is the bloused-back dress or suit.

"The middy," says Chaiken, "is unquestionably the easiest of the new styles for the average woman to wear. The bloused back and the shift are good on tall, slender women and on slim junior figures. However, all the new chemise versions, and all include a belt for the timid."

Select True Pattern

Local sewing center experts advise that if you plan to sew a chemise, it's best to select a true chemise pattern. Don't try to make a chemise from a standard sheath. There is considerable difference in the cut, in addition to the relaxed waistline. The skirt is tapered toward the hem and style emphasis is placed at the neckline.

In order to insure correct fit, select your proper pattern size, going by the bustline measurement. Although the chemise allows two inches extra at the waistline, the ease allowance at the hipline is one inch less. Baste waistline darts in place and try on before stitching. Be sure the widest part of the dart falls at your natural waistline. Even if you are daring enough to try a completely unfitted chemise, you'll find that a suggestion of waistline curve is becoming.

FIT Over Foundation

When making the chemise it is particularly important to do all fitting over the foundation garment you will wear with the dress. A longer girdle often is advisable, to give extra control at the thigh area and add sleekness to the silhouette. A rounded bra is important for the gently defined bustline.

When marking the hem of the garment, be sure to wear the shoes you plan to wear with it, as heel height makes a difference in the hang of the skirt. The chemise should be considerably shorter than last year's fashions, coming just below the knee.

The home seamstress will have a wide fabric choice for her new chemise. Soft fabrics such as jersey, sheer wool or silk will require linings in the back of the skirt, to retain the slender look. Crisper fabrics such as linen need no lining.

Chaiken offers a final word of advice: "Pay particular attention to the neckline and shoulder fit. When a dress fits only in that area, it must be perfect."

Finds $44,000 Hidden In Trunk And Chair

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Phillip La Vallee's invalid wife died in 1953 but he's still finding what she left.

A year ago he discovered $13,000 under the upholstery of her wheel chair. Recently he found $31,100 in cash in a newspaper-wrapped cigar box, stored inside a suitcase which in turn was inside a locked trunk. La Vallee said the money came in on investments and was tured over to his wife for re-investment.

Young Moderns

BY VIVIAN BROWN

AP Newsfeatures Writer

"I saw Sputnik way up in the sky," bragged a little fellow to his high school baby sitter, a while back.

Do you think she understood that kind of baby talk? Perish the thought. She'd never heard of earth satellites, it turned out, and perhaps doesn't now know that the United States has tossed three of its own into orbit.

How many teen-agess live in that little vacuum, passing through this wondrous age without curiosity or awareness? And why hasn't their interest been aroused by parents or teachers?

Time was when the daily newspaper was required reading for high school students, considered essential to keeping up with current events. But maybe Susie, like Johnny, can't read.

Paper Best Investment

The American newspaper is the most rewarding investment that one can make at a price that doesn't even pay for the newsprint. Just test it. Go through the paper from start to finish, and see for yourself.

A newspaper offers diaries of events that history may never record in such detail. These accounts of our times are painless ways to absorb knowledge, step by step, on the educational ladder.

What's in a daily newspaper anyway?

There is news — everything you want to know that has happened since the last edition, if it is fit to print.

The newspaper is pure gold for today's science student, acquainting him with the strides being made in the vast scientific world. Book reviews stimulate a literary bent. Theater reviews dissect drama, opera, the stage. And where, I ask you, but in the newspaper can you find a daily vocabulary builder like the challenging crossword puzzle?

News Gathered At Risk

There are news feature stories to offer a forward look into the world of other people — the way they live, sleep, eat, dress, their work and hobbies. We get the latest word from the world of sports, brush with the business world. A student of economics can learn a great deal about debentures and deficits from financial pages. And then there are the editorials, helping to analyze the news and the paper's interpretation of it. You don't have to agree with the writer, but it's stimulating to see the other fellow's point of view. Newspapers haven't lost their sense of humor through the years either, and you can still find cartoons and comics strips to give you a laugh.

Reporters over the world write first hand accounts of their news experiences, sometimes gathered at great personal risk. It's for you to read today, why wait until you are a college senior to read the digested version?

The daily newspaper keeps us informed, too, of what is happening in government and community. Our syndicated news services also keep radio and TV updated with news and they may pick up the slack until newspaper edition time. From weather forecast to want ads, the newspaper spells service to the citizen. It is such a time honored institution that perhaps it is taken for granted, especially by young people.

NO ACCIDENTS FORMULA

FREDERICKSBURG, Va. (AP) — Major Burton, 63, and with 40 years of driving without an accident, has four rules for avoiding them. They are: Have reliable equipment, observe all driving regulations, be alert, and get plenty of sleep and rest. Burton retired March 1 from a job of driving for an oil firm.

Firemen Turn Cops To Trace A Burglar

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — City firemen answered a false alarm here recently and when returned to the station found someone had stolen three wallets.

So they played back the tape recording of the person who turned in the false alarm and recognized the voice as that of a former fireman.

Darrell Livengood, 21, finally admitted to police that he turned in the alarm to give him time to enter the station living quarters and take the wallets. He spent the $48 he stole, he said.

He was charged with burglary.

MAKE YOURSELF USEFUL

MARTINSVILLE, Ind. (AP) — The town board in the nearby community of Mooresville figured their volunteer firemen might as well perform a civic service in their regular Saturday night practice drills.

So they asked the firefighters to use their hoses to wash down the streets while they were practicing.

DESIGNER PUTS BEAUTY INTO COMMON PLACES

By NORRIS LEAP
Of The Los Angeles Times

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Henry Dreyfuss is a designing man who at 54 can hardly enter a home, an office or walk down the street of any city without seeing something of his work.

He is the man who designed your telephone and quite likely your bathroom fixtures, your typewriter, your pen, your clock, your sewing machine, your TV, your air conditioner or any of a dozen other of your possessions.

One of the world's top industrial designers, he will tell you he got where he is by being a perfectionist, by having in his youth a little more than his share of brashness, and by marrying a woman with a flair for business.

He tells with a quirk of pride the time when at 17 he defied common sense and launched himself into the world of arts.

Graded 99 Per Cent

Graduating from a private school in New York with perfect grades in art, he had already won a college scholarship. However, when he took the New York regents examination his work came back graded 99 per cent and bearing the notation, "No one is perfect."

That enraged him so that he abandoned the scholarship. Instead he got a job as a theatrical designer and skipped college.

Dreyfuss' youthful brashness got him his second job. He was 18 and took a girl to a movie house, where the setting for the stage show was of execrable design.

He wrote as much to the manager. Back came an answer that if he thought he could do better, come in and do it.

Designed For Plays, Musicals

He did, and for each of the following 260 weeks he designed a different stage setting for the Strand Theater. He also began designing for plays and musicals.

But at 23 he quit and went to Europe.

"I was tired and there wasn't enough money in it," he said. Besides, he had a dream. He had been looking around the world he lived in and had seen it filled with things shaped for utility. Often they were downright ugly.

He thought something should be done about it. When he returned to New York, he decided to try.

He rented an office, hung up a shingle as an "industrial designer," and hired a secretary, Doris Marks, a slim brunette, soft of voice and a Vassar graduate in psychology.

Wanted To Quit

Dreyfuss was 25 and in business in a brand new field just in time to find that his world had been paralyzed by the Black Thursday crash.

"I might as well quit," he told Miss Marks.

She disagreed.

"What have you got to lose?" she asked. The question proved valid, for he had nowhere to go but up.

But at first the motion was all but imperceptible.

Finally he found what he was looking for, a product he could design from the inside out rather than simply dressing up a manufacturer's mistakes.

Redesigned Telephones

It was the telephone.

Dreyfuss has had the account ever since. Today this country uses 50 million telephones of his design.

That opened the floodgates. The list of ways in which he has changed the American scene could go into the hundreds, and possibly the thousands. His success lies in something more than cleverness with line and eagerness to find new and better materials. It is in his zeal for perfection, in finding exactly the right answer to a problem through endless studies.

Dreyfuss gives much of the credit for his own success to the woman he hired, the former Doris Marks. They were married two years after she became his secretary.

"From the start," he said, "she organized things. I never would have stayed in business without her."

Turns Down Lead; Can't Leave Pets

NEW YORK (AP) — June Havoc isn't letting her stage career interfere with her pets.

Miss Havoc turned doown a bid to play the lead role in London production of the Broadway hit "Auntie Mame." She passed the chance because England quarantines for six months any animal brought into the country.

The actress decided that was too long to be parted from her sizeable brood of dogs and cats.

PONCA CITY, Okla. (AP) — Mrs. Jay Stahlhut commented to some friends that the new style sack dress is just that, a sack.

A few days later she received a package. Inside was a dress made from printed feed sacks.

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz. (AP) — Cattle rustling is still a serious offense to folks in the West.

Fred Gomez, 32, and Tony Lopez, 43, both of Flagstaff, were sentenced to five years in the state prison for rustling six head of cattle.
